Working Agreement

Core Values: Our foundation rests on Creativity, Teamwork, and Resilience. We aim to use creativity and teamwork to give every student at the Academy a personalized moment in the spotlight — turning a simple egg drop into a shared celebration of resilience and belonging. By engaging the entire student body, we foster an environment where everyone contributes, learns, and grows together. This collaborative spirit ensures that each participant feels valued and empowered, developing essential life skills that extend beyond the classroom. Our mission is to create memorable experiences that resonate long after the event is over, reinforcing the importance of community and support among peers.

MISSION STATEMENT

We are committed to providing an inclusive atmosphere where every student can express their creativity and showcase their talents. Our project emphasizes personal connections and storytelling through engineering challenges. By incorporating Guidara's principle of Personalization, we ensure that every team gets its own moment in front of the school, allowing their unique contraptions to shine. Moreover, Carnegie's principle of making others feel important reinforces our goal to celebrate ordinary students, integrating them into the spotlight. This focus on the collective experience enhances school spirit and promotes a sense of belonging, making the egg drop competition a highlight of the academic year.

Roles & Contact List

Team Roles

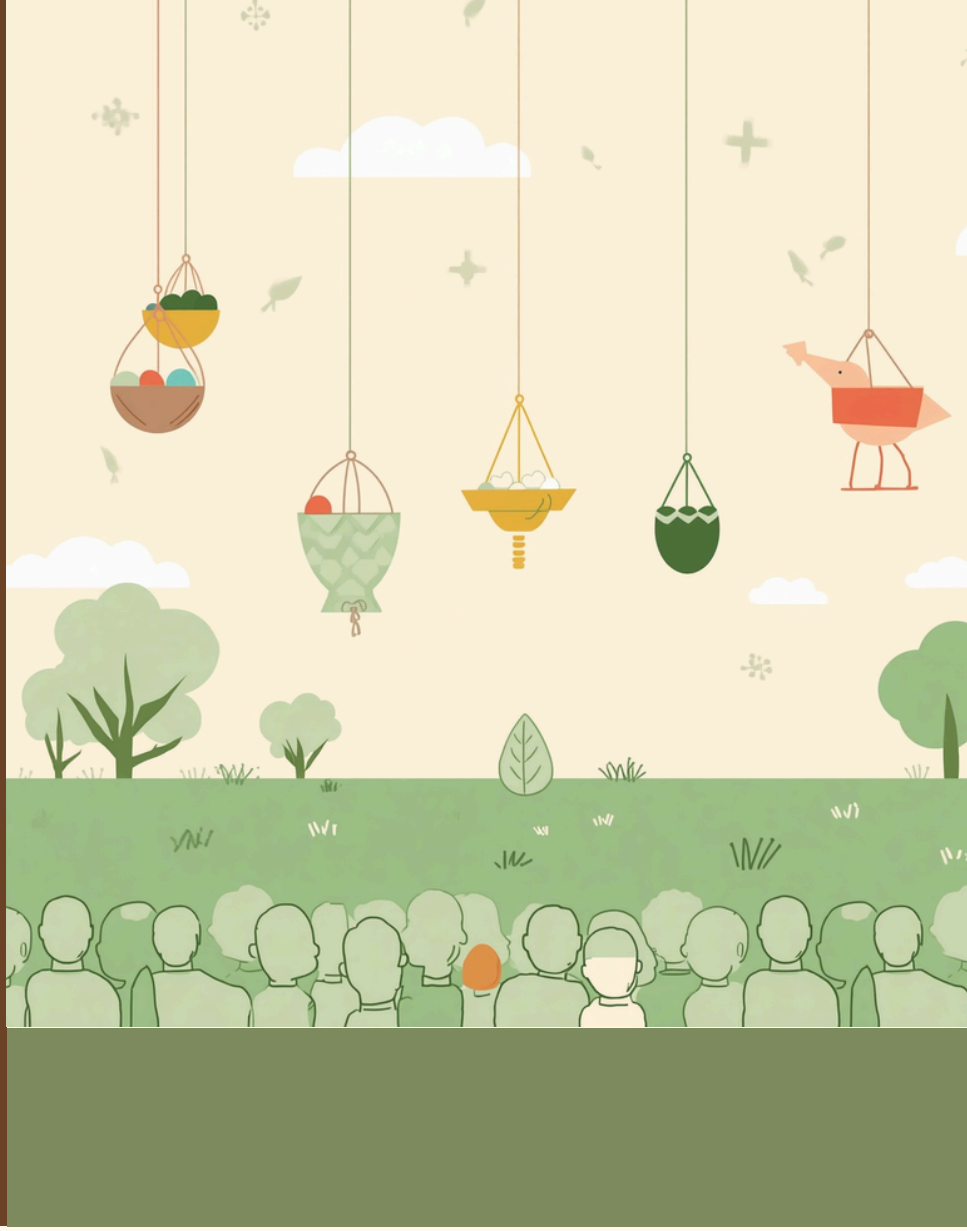

Name	Role	Responsibilities
Bryan Dockstader	Team Organizer	Plans tasks, keeps the team on track, makes sure deadlines are met.
Michael Zitting	Technology & Budget	Sources materials, tracks costs, manages equipment/technology for the event.
Arizona Timpson	Designer	Creates and organizes the team's visual materials.
Olivia Timpson	Stakeholder & Marketing	Handles outreach, promotion, and permission logistics.

EGG-CELLENT ENGINEERING

The Yolk Squad

The Yolk Squad is creating a Schoolwide Egg Drop Competition. The student body is split into small teams, each given one raw egg and an identical kit of building materials, and challenged to engineer a contraption that keeps their egg intact through a live drop in front of the whole Academy. As a warm-up, teams first compete in a Marshmallow Tower Challenge — building the tallest self-supporting spaghetti-and-marshmallow tower — giving every team a second moment to shine before the eggs even drop. We want to take a familiar idea and make it feel personal — borrowing Guidara's principle of Personalization, every team gets its moment in front of the school, and every contraption tells its own story. We're also hosting a pancake breakfast for the whole school before the drop — a direct expression of Guidara's radical generosity — and setting up simple board games and tabletop activities so students have something to do while they watch or wait between rounds. Our project is founded on the idea that a successful event is partly built on how it makes people feel, ensuring that every team walks away having built something together.

Guiding Principles

How We're Applying Guidara & Carnegie

Per our syllabus, every team's project must be led by one principle from Unreasonable Hospitality, supported by a complementary principle from How to Win Friends and Influence People, applied directly to our service project.

Leading Principle

Personalization — Will Guidara, Unreasonable Hospitality

Guidara defines hospitality as making someone feel truly seen — knowing your audience the way you'd know a guest. We apply this by giving every team, not just the winners, its own moment in front of the whole school. Every contraption is different, every team's build tells its own story, and every team is announced and recognized individually rather than lumped in as "the student body."

Supporting Principle

"Make the other person feel important — and do it sincerely" — Dale Carnegie, How to Win Friends and Influence People

Carnegie's principle reinforces Guidara's: recognition can't stop at first place. We're building in shout-outs and categories beyond "most eggs survived" — most creative design, best team name, most dramatic drop — so every team leaves having been made to feel important, not just the team that won.

How This Shapes Our Project

Together, these principles turn a simple egg drop into a hospitality exercise: every student gets a personalized moment, and every team is made to feel genuinely important regardless of outcome. We're extending that same spirit further with a schoolwide pancake breakfast before the drop — Guidara's radical generosity in action, welcoming everyone before the competition even starts.

October 2026 Schedule

Key Events and Milestones

MATERIALS ORDERED

Ensure all building supplies are ready for teams.

TEAM PROMO PUSH

Promote the event to the whole student body.

MIDTERM CHECK-IN

Review team progress and adjust as needed.

REHEARSAL / DRY RUN

Practice runs to test the egg drop contraptions.

EVENT DETAILS

This month is crucial for preparation and engagement. Each event milestone is designed to keep teams on track and generate excitement within the school community. With thoughtful planning and collaboration, we aim to make this egg drop competition a memorable experience for everyone involved.

Budget

Itemized Costs — Egg Drop Competition

Based on ~150 students (38 teams of 4)

EGG-DROP BUILDING MATERIALS

Per-team kit components, priced for the full 38-team build.

Item	Qty	Unit	Cost
Eggs	4	dozen	$16.00
Straws	10	boxes	$30.00
Masking / Painter's Tape	13	rolls	$45.50
Cotton Balls	8	bags	$24.00
Popsicle Sticks	13	boxes	$39.00
Rubber Bands	4	bags	$12.00
Balloons	8	bags	$32.00
Yarn	8	skeins	$20.00
Grocery Bags	1	bulk pack	$8.00
Tissue Paper Rolls	13	rolls	$19.50
Cardboard Sheets	10	sheets	$20.00
Styrofoam Cups	8	packs	$24.00
Sponges	8	packs	$20.00
Saran Wrap	8	rolls	$24.00
Small Pencils	1	pack (50ct)	$5.00
Tinfoil	8	rolls	$28.00

Materials Subtotal: $367.00

Refreshments — Pancake Breakfast

Item	Qty	Unit	Cost
Pancake Mix	4	5lb boxes	$20.00
Butter	2	lb	$8.00
Syrup	3	bottles	$13.50
Plates	1	150ct pack	$8.00
Cups	1	150ct pack	$6.00
Napkins	1	200ct pack	$3.00
Griddles / Cooking Equipment	—	borrowed	Provided

Refreshments Subtotal: $58.50

Budget (Continued)

Itemized Costs — Egg Drop Competition (cont.)

Activities

Board Games (checkers, cards, dominoes)	4–5	sets	$35.00

Activities Subtotal: $35.00

Cleanup

Tarps	4	—	$32.00
Trash Bags	1	box	$6.00

Cleanup Subtotal: $38.00

Prize & Signage

Item	Qty	Unit	Cost
Winning Team Prize	1	—	$25.00 (est.)
Event Banner	1	—	$20.00 (est.)

Prize & Signage Subtotal: $45.00

Marshmallow Tower Challenge

Warm-up build challenge before the egg drops begin.

Item	Qty	Unit	Cost
Spaghetti	20	boxes	$30.00
Marshmallows	4	bags	$12.00
Masking / Painter's Tape	5	rolls	$17.50
String	1	spool	$5.00

Marshmallow Tower Subtotal: $64.50

Total Estimated Budget: $608.00

(Based on ~150 students / 38 teams of 4 — confirm real headcount and costs with your team and Mrs. Knudson before finalizing.)
